Knowledge Xpert™ for DB2

Comprehensive Technical Expertise for DB2

In today's rapidly changing business world, the need to ensure data availability and integrity and application performance has never been greater. To address this need, Quest provides Knowledge Xpert™ for DB2, a comprehensive online technical resource to help DB2 professionals design, develop and manage DB2.

Save Hours of Development and Administration Time

Knowledge Xpert for DB2 gives you instant access to the technical information that will answer 70 percent to 80 percent of your daily technical questions, without the need to search the manuals, books or Internet resources. Simply install the product on your hard drive — and type a keyword. Thousands of technical topics and error messages are immediately accessible — helping you design, develop and manage more efficiently.

Each topic is carefully formatted to give you the background insights, best practices, working examples and performance considerations that you need to make effective decisions.

Resolve Error Messages Immediately

Knowledge Xpert for DB2 includes a comprehensive lookup facility for DB2 error messages and reason codes. Just type your error message and you will immediately get explanations, system actions and recommended programmer responses. Attach your own user notes to any error message and build a library of in-house solutions.

Extend Your Knowledge by Customizing

Make Knowledge Xpert for DB2 your first resource when you look for DB2 answers. Click a button to add your own notes, documents, spreadsheets — even Web sites — to any topic for immediate recall. Drill-down bookmarks are even supplied within IBM's online Book Manager documentation.

Comprehensive DB2 for OS/390 Resource

New and intermediate DB2 professionals will benefit immediately from the product's ease of use, presentation of information and working examples. Senior professionals will enjoy the immediate recall of reference materials and the ability to share insights with junior staff members.
